The Promised Land: Unified Food Experiences

The food experience has become one fused, transparent experience for both the operator and the guest. Operators need a dynamic, data-centric POS platform to deliver unified food experiences.

About Qu

Qu is transforming restaurant POS beyond its current fragmented state into a manageable, unified experience for enterprise operators and guests alike. Our API-first, data-centric foundation works at the critical intersections of ordering, production, and brand to help solve the technology crisis operators are in today.

Laser-focused on quick service and fast-casual restaurant success, we constantly apply speed, flexibility, and innovative thinking to deliver unified food experiences that drive healthier bottom lines.

We're delivering the industry's first truly connected enterprise restaurant platform, powered by one common core, making tangible those lofty ambitions for data-driven guest experiences. Based in Bethesda, MD, Qu is backed by leading restaurant entrepreneurs as well as Silicon Valley investors that have also backed Google, Uber, and Dropbox.

It's time to take quantum leaps forward to unified food experiences.
